Donation Station Summer Internship
Greensboro Farmer’s Curb Market
Saturday 05/11/2019 – 08/10/2019

Farmer Foodshare connects people who grow food to people who need it through local farmer’s markets. Here’s how it works: customers donate produce to the Donation Station table at the market, then we donate the collected produce to local hunger relief organizations. The farmers make some extra sales and the food gets out to folks who need it – everyone wins! Join a team of UNCG interns and volunteers who run this station year-round!

Responsibilities (up to 5 hours/week):
1. Manage Donation Station on Saturdays (7:00am-12:30pm) 2x/month (0-6 hrs/week) *Must have transportation and be able to list up to 40 pounds
2. Recruit and supervise Donation Station volunteers (0-1 hr/week)
3. Complete a creative project of your choice (e.g. host a kid’s event at a market, design marketing, make a video, etc.) (0-3 hrs/week)

Qualifications:
1. Interest in food insecurity, nutrition, and community food systems
2. Detail-oriented, dedicated, timely, and responsible
3. Excellent communication skills, including conversation with strangers
4. Morning person!

Benefits:
1. Structured resume-building experience with a respected NC non-profit
2. Possible course credit or service-learning hours (up to you to arrange)
3. Networking and mentorship opportunities in local food systems, food security, agriculture, public health, nutrition, and education
